

Crash Course U.S. Government - Day 43

1. The Constitution only protects citizens from what type of searches and seizures?

2. What is a search warrant?

3. What must the police have to get a judge to issue a warrant?

4. What two specific things are warrants supposed to include?

1) _____

2) _____

5. What is one situation where the police may not need a warrant to conduct a search?

6. What is the exclusionary rule?

Bonus: what is another name for the exclusionary rule?

Answers

1. unreasonable
2. a piece of paper issued by a judge authorizing law enforcement officers to search something
3. probable cause
4. what the police expect to find, where they expect to find it/where they want to search
5. answers may vary but could include, if they witness someone in the commission of a crime, or they are caught in the act
6. unlawfully obtained evidence is excluded from a trial

Bonus: fruit of the poison tree