I have really a very great interest in poor Hyde. I know you have seen him; he told me so; and I fear he was rude. But I do take a very great interest in that young man; and if I am taken away, I wish you to promise me that you will bear with him and get his rights for him. I think you would, if you knew all; and it would be a weight of f my mind if you would promise.
